WHAT IS THE DISASTER RECOVERY ASSISTANCE FOR ONTARIANS PROGRAM?

Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians is designed to help people affected by natural disasters get back on their feet.

After a natural disaster, people may need help to cover the costs of cleaning, repairing and replacing essential property, so their lives can get back to normal. Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians provides financial assistance to individuals, small owner-operated businesses, farmers and not-for-profit organizations. It helps cover emergency expenses, repairs, or replacement of essential property after a natural disaster.

The Ontario Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing may activate the program in the event of a natural disaster such as a flood or a tornado. Homeowners and residential tenants, small business owners, farmers and not-for-profit organizations can apply for assistance under the program if they are located in the defined geographical area for which the program has been activated following a natural disaster.

Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians is activated for a specific period of time after a natural disaster.

Eligible applicants can receive financial assistance for emergency expenses and costs for repair or replacement of essential property. The intent of the program is to return essential property to its basic function. The program covers the cost of returning property to a basic standard, and cannot be used for making improvements. Financial assistance under the program is subject to caps and deductibles.

The purpose of these guidelines is to provide information on the program and assist people in applying for Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians. Before you submit an application, please read these guidelines carefully to understand what costs are eligible under the program and what documentation is required to support your application for financial assistance under the program.

1.1 What Types of Disasters Are Eligible?

Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians is activated when a sudden, unexpected natural disaster causes costly and widespread damage to eligible private property.

Examples of natural disasters for which the program may be activated are floods, tornadoes, landslides and earthquakes.

The program does not apply to non-natural disasters such as human-caused events, or to events that occur over an extended period of time, such as droughts.

Damage caused by sewer backup is not generally eligible under the program. However, there is a special provision to provide assistance to low-income households that experience flood damage caused by sewer backup. This provision is described in Section 2.5.

1.2 Who Can Apply?

There are four applicant categories:

- Homeowners (primary residence only) and Residential Tenants
- Small, Owner-Operated Businesses
- Small, Owner-Operated Farms
- Not-for-Profit Organizations

You may submit an application in more than one category (e.g., as a homeowner and as a small owner-operated business owner), if applicable. For example, if both your small owner-operated business and your primary residence suffer damage as a result of the same disaster, submit one application as a small owner-operated business and one application as a homeowner. If you are a landlord and you own multiple rental units that are damaged in a disaster, and you meet the eligibility criteria under the small owner-operated business category, submit one application with all the units listed.

The program does not apply to First Nation reserves. First Nations living on reserves affected by a natural disaster should contact Indigenous and Northern Affairs Canada for information about disaster financial assistance.

1.3 How to Apply

If you have sustained damage to your essential property as a result of a natural disaster and the program is activated in your geographic area, you must first complete the application form in full and sign it. Submit the completed form and all available supporting documentation to the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing at the address on the form. Application forms are available on the program's website (ontario.ca/disasterassistance). Application forms are also distributed through municipal offices and other locations in communities affected by a disaster.

The application deadline is 120 calendar days after the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing announces that the program is activated in your area. Please check the program website to verify the deadline applicable to the disaster in your community. You are encouraged to submit your application as soon as you can assemble the required documents and information, so that financial assistance for eligible costs can be provided to you as soon as possible. If there are expenses that you have not yet incurred, you may submit estimates from contractors with your initial application, and submit copies of final invoices and receipts later.

1.4 What Kinds of Documents are Required to Support an Application?

You are required to provide evidence that your property was damaged in the natural disaster. You must also provide documentation that you have incurred eligible costs for emergency expenses or repair or replacement of essential property.

It is important to take photographs to record the damage to your property. Include both interior and exterior views, and photograph all damaged items before you discard them. If practical, retain samples of damaged materials.

Information and documents you will need to support an application may include:

- Proof of your identity and address
- Photographs of damage to your property
- Records of hours you spent on emergency cleanup
- Copies of receipts and invoices for all costs incurred
- Estimates from qualified contractors for repairs that are not yet completed
- A letter from your insurance company that details the type and cause of damage or loss, the amount that was covered under insurance, and the reason any portion of the damage or loss was not covered

Submit copies of documents (paper or scanned) with your application form. Keep the originals of all documentation submitted with your application in case we ask to see them.

1. WHAT IS THE DISASTER RECOVERY ASSISTANCE FOR ONTARIANS PROGRAM?

After you submit your application, a representative from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing or an adjuster from a firm working under contract for the ministry may contact you to verify what you have submitted or request additional information. The adjuster may also request to visit your property for the purpose of assessing your Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians application.

If you cannot provide adequate documentation to support that the amounts you are applying for are eligible under the program guidelines, you may not be able to receive financial assistance.

Specific documentation requirements for different applicant types are listed under the specific applicant category.

GENERAL APPLICANT INFORMATION

2.1 What is Essential Property?

Essential property refers to:

- a primary home where the applicant lives on a day-to-day basis and its basic contents
- or, the main premises and key equipment and inventory of an eligible small business, farm, or not-for-profit organization

The program does not provide assistance for non-essential property. Items such as vehicles, landscaping, driveways, fences, jewellery, antiques, collectibles, art and most electronics are not eligible under the program. Assistance is limited to a primary residence where an applicant lives on a day-to-day basis. Secondary residences such as cottages are not eligible.

2.2 Can I Receive Payment for the Same Item Twice?

You cannot receive payment for the same item twice. This program does not pay for costs that can or will be paid for from other sources. Any assistance or payments you have already received (e.g., from your insurer, or an emergency aid organization) must be disclosed on your application form. Contributions from other sources for items being applied for under Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians will be subtracted from your eligible application amount.

If you have initiated, or if you plan to initiate, civil litigation to recover losses related to the disaster, assistance may be withheld pending the outcome of the legal proceedings. You may also be required to refund any assistance you receive up to the amount you recovered as a result of the legal proceedings. If you fail to disclose this litigation-related information to the ministry, your application for assistance may be denied, and the ministry may require the repayment of any assistance you have received.

2.3 Limits on Assistance Under Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians

Many emergency expenses, household appliances and furnishings are subject to caps on the eligible amount of assistance. In the case of emergency expenses, caps are based on essential costs. In the case of household appliances and furnishings, caps reflect pricing of a basic, or standard, model. Caps are updated regularly to reflect current prices. Current information about emergency expenses and essential property that are subject to eligibility caps is available on the program website at ontario.ca/disasterassistance.

Under the program, a $500 deductible is applied to your application, unless you qualify to have the deductible waived under the special provision for low-income households described in Section 2.5.

Your application will be paid at 90 per cent of the eligible amount after the deductible has been applied.

The maximum payment per application is $250,000.

Example of application assistance calculation

An applicant's home is seriously damaged in a tornado. The applicant is not able to receive reimbursement through insurance, because the insurance policy does not cover damage from tornadoes. The applicant submits total costs for emergency expenses and property repairs of $289,000. The adjuster determines that $266,000 of this amount is eligible under the program.

The payment the applicant will receive is calculated as follows:

- Eligible application amount as determined by the adjuster: $266,000
- Final eligible amount after $500 deductible: $265,500
- Application paid at 90 per cent of the final eligible amount: $238,950

The applicant will receive a payment of $238,950 under the program.

2.4 How does Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians work with Insurance?

Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians is not a replacement for insurance. You must submit an application to your insurer before submitting an application to the Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians program. Any costs that your insurance provider will cover, or has covered, must be stated in your application to Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians. You must provide a letter from your insurer detailing the coverage under your policy as part of your application. The letter must detail the type and cause of damage or loss, the amount that was covered under insurance, and the reason any portion of the damage or loss was not covered.

Costs relating to uninsured essential property that is damaged may be applied for where insurance coverage is only available for a portion of the value of the lost property. Available insurance coverage must be used first to cover eligible damage, with any remaining uninsured damage being eligible for assistance under Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians. Insurance deductibles are not eligible.

Example of partially insured property application calculation

The applicant's costs for emergency expenses and replacement of damaged essential property amount to $10,000. The adjuster subtracts the $8,000 payment the applicant received from her insurer and the $600 deductible under her policy to determine that the applicant's eligible amount under Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians is $1,400.

The payment the applicant will receive is calculated as follows:

- Eligible application amount as determined by the adjuster: $1,400
- Final eligible amount after $500 deductible: $900
- Application paid at 90 per cent of the final eligible amount: $810

The applicant will receive a payment of $810 under the program.

2.5 Special Provisions for Low-Income Households

The program includes two special provisions for low-income households:

- Low-income households can apply to have the $500 deductible waived
- Low-income households can apply for assistance for damage caused by sewer backup, which is not otherwise eligible under the program

Applicants whose household income falls below the program's low-income thresholds are eligible under these provisions. The program's low-income thresholds are established each year based on 50 per cent of median after-tax household income, adjusted for the number of people living in the household, as reported by Statistics Canada. For the program's current low-income thresholds, visit the program website at ontario.ca/disasterassistance.

2. GENERAL APPLICANT INFORMATION

Please see Section 3.2 for documentation required to apply under these special provisions.

You can apply for costs to repair or replace essential structures and property that is not covered by insurance.

Note: Only costs to repair/replace property to a basic level are eligible. Some eligible items receive coverage to a maximum allowable amount. Current information about essential property that is subject to an eligibility cap is available on the program website at ontario.ca/disasterassistance.

2.7 Reconsideration Process

You may request a reconsideration of the ministry's decision regarding your eligibility for the program or the payment amount of your application.

If you wish to request reconsideration you must submit a Request for Reconsideration under Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians within 45 days of the date of the letter informing you of the decision on your application.

The form and instructions for requesting reconsideration of the decision on your application are available on the program website at ontario.ca/disasterassistance.
